The C3 Hybrid camper is built for light weight, compact family camping with a full Queen mattress for the parents and two single bunk beds for the children. The bunk beds convert into a huge settee with the click of two catches. Outside there is a stainless steel kitchen with three burner cooktop and sink with a 200L pantry and optional 95L fridge within easy reach of the food prep area.

The C3 is designed to get to remote locations and has the capacity to stay there in comfort. With a full composite aluminium body, steel chassis, and off road suspension, the C3 is built for Australia's outback.

The C3 comes standard with a rear drop down external ensuite, 240L of water and 200 amp hours of battery power, so your remote stay need not be a short or uncomfortable one.

Available options include: swing around table, hot water, refrigeration and air conditioning.

C3 PLUS HYBRID | $59,990

2-4 PEOPLE

The C3 PLUS has an internal ensuite/toilet and bunk beds for two children, but at only 6.4m long is still small and agile enough to get to the good spots. If you want the comforts of a full sized caravan but are not ready to give up the go any where capability of a camper trailer, the C3 PLUS is for you.

The C3 PLUS is the ultimate in family camping, combining outside camper trailer lifestyle with inside caravan comfort. Externally, under a quick set up, 270°awning, sits the slide out chef's kitchen, optional 95L fridge/freezer, 250L pantry and bench. Internally, there is a Queen size bed, two 2m long bunk beds for the children that convert into a lounge, a hot water shower and toilet.

The C3 PLUS's clean and functional design makes it extremely livable with large windows and a white gloss finish giving it an airy and spacious feel that belies its compact towability.

The C3 PLUS is built with remote travel in mind. Independent trailing arm suspension rated to 2500kg keeps both wheels grounded on outback tracks. Weight is kept to a minimum with an aluminium composite shell bonded to an aluminium frame. Furnishings are rivetted and bolted aluminium with a powder coat finish to resist wear and tear from corrugations.

Storage in the C PLUS is impressive with a total of 2000L of usable space. Inside there are ample drawers and storage for all the family and outside there is the renowned Modcon kitchen, pantry and fridge slide. There is also plenty of wide storage space for items such as tables and chairs.

The C3 PLUS has everything you need for your next family adventure.

The C2 is the perfect couple's tourer.

This clever camper utilizes a super lightweight fibreglass composite construction and is only 5.2m long, making it a breeze to tow and manoeuvre.

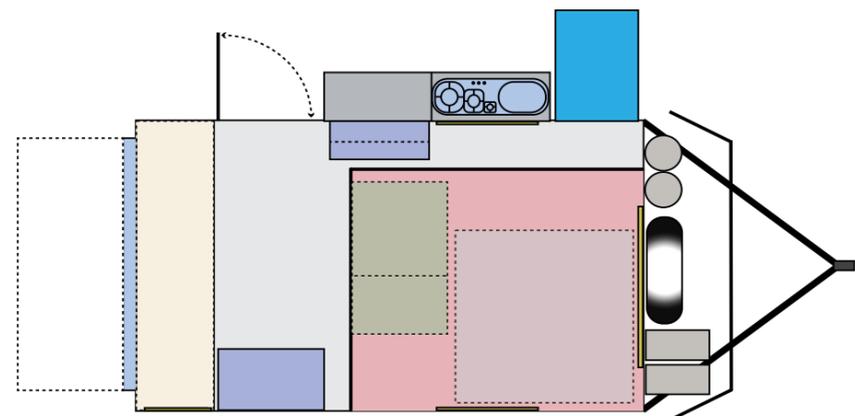

With hot water and air conditioning standard, the C2 is suited to the vast range of climatic conditions that the diversity of Australia offers.

The food prep area is at the rear of the camper with a slide out Thetford three burner stove and sink, massive pantry area and the capacity to fit a 95L fridge.

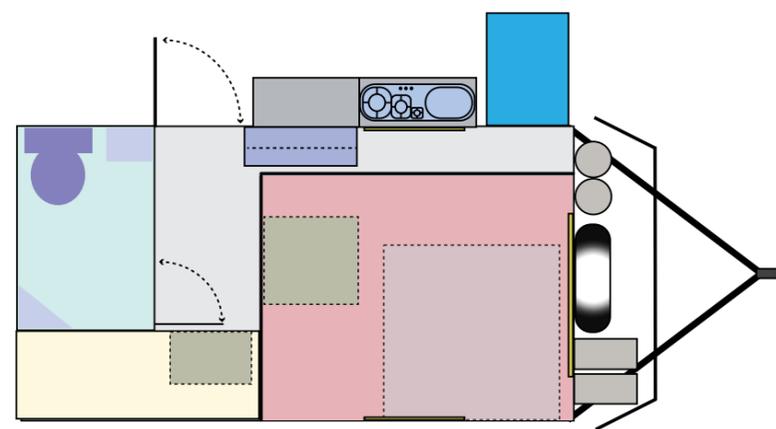

Inside, the Queen sized bed lifts up to reveal seating for two and a table.

Storage is also a key feature with plenty available for remote touring or a holiday at the beach.

The Cruiser 16, Cruiser 16 Island and Cruiser 19 are Modcon RV's series of off road caravans.

Utilising the latest RV manufacturing techniques and a global supply chain, Modcon RV has been able to produce high spec and high quality vans that are light, well insulated and strong.

The light weight construction means we can include all the gear such as a 150L fridge, oven and four burner stove, hot water system, fibreglass shower room, 190L of water, inverter, lithium battery, internal and external kitchen, spacious dining area and the list goes on. Add the comfortable sleeping areas and luxurious ensuite and you have everything you need for fully self supported remote camping for either couples or families.

The Cruiser Series utilises the latest composite panel technology to make a strong, light and well insulated caravan. The roof and side walls are made of foam core, fibre glass composite sandwich panels, while the floor is a PVC honeycomb panel designed for impact resistance. Bonded together, they make a monocoque build of excellent strength and thermal rating. The load bearing sections of the roof panel such as the air conditioning mount are further strengthened with aluminium box section bonded into the panel itself.

The roof, front and rear is a single piece panel, so the whole caravan shell has only six joins. Also, the spaces for doorways, hatches and windows are CNC routed for exact fit, producing an impervious structure that has very little thermal leakage making for an extremely comfortable living environment in all weather conditions.

The high insulation rating of the composite panels also better manages condensation on cold winter mornings by providing a thermal barrier between inside and outside temperatures. Water cannot penetrate the closed cell foam core, so rotting frames and hidden water damaged walls are problems of the past.

The whole chassis, draw bar and trailing arm suspension is hot dipped galvanised inside and out, making for an undercarriage that is extremely resistant to stone damage and rust and providing longer lasting protection than other protective measures such as rubberised coating.

Despite their compact size, the Cruiser 16 and 19 have the space and functionality for a large family. The Queen sized bed, two bunk beds and extra sleeping area available when the dining area is converted into a bed, allows sleeping for a family of five. The Cruiser 16l is the perfect tourer for a couple with a convertible sleeping area for a child.

The fully equipped kitchen with a 150L fridge, stove, grill and oven with sink and bench will keep everyone fed, and externally a second kitchen area means the cook can be part of outside living.

Water and power limit time spent remote, so the Cruiser Series has what it takes to keep you out there longer.

2 x 95L tanks and a 125L grey water tank allow the water conscious family or couple to extend their stay away from civilisation. Likewise, the 240w LiFePO4 battery and 2 x 100w solar panels on the roof will keep the lights on and the fridge going while your family follows the horizon on that trip of a lifetime.

The electrical system is housed in a dedicated area below the lounge. A 2000w inverter and 55 amp 240v charger round out an impressive electrical set up.

Hot water is provided by a Gas/Electric Truma system with gas being used when remote camping and electric when 240v power is available. The ensuite is a fibre glass pod construction and the cassette toilet is Thetford.
